The Aktion Difference

Ready for a business where downtime and lost profits are a thing of the past? An always-on business is the reality with Aktion's Cloud Services developed specifically for Infor.

Most hosting providers force you to conform to a generic, one-size-fits-all services model. These providers disregard everything that makes your business unique and successful.

Generic is not who you are. And, it's not who we are either.

Aktion's Cloud Services are unique and built to support the specific requirements of Infor users. Infor application, third party integrations, secure infrastructure, OS/server management, disaster recovery/backup— all the checklist of items that cause you sleepless nights wondering if they are functioning correctly are the ones we take full responsibility in supporting.

We make sure your business is always on. That's the Aktion difference.

Not only does Aktion Cloud Services provide the security of proactive server management and monitoring, but our customers also enjoy peace of mind knowing that their hosted servers are maintained and supported by engineers with application-specific expertise. Both hosting and software support can be obtained from a single point of contact.

With a large number of Aktion Cloud Services customers running the same supported software packages, common issues are familiar to us, resulting in expedited resolution.

Customer Testimonial

"We chose Aktion based on their relationship. They are very dedicated to what they have to offer putting their customers first and making sure we were comfortable with the process."
